

The EU is looking for Administrators in the field of Public Health (AD6)

The European Commission is currently looking for highly talented and motivated health and food safety specialists in the area of audit, inspection and evaluation and food safety specialists in policy and legislation.

Health and food safety administrators work in areas such as food and feed safety, animal health and welfare, plant health or in health protection. In this position, you will carry out and lead audits, prepare reports and technical matters as well as maintain professional and scientific knowledge in the field. These positions are mainly located in Grange, Ireland, and frequent travel on the job is expected.

Policy and legislation administrators work in areas such as food and feed safety, animal health and welfare, and plant health. In this position, you will develop policy and legislation, implement and manage existing legislation and carry out regulatory tasks, including risk assessment, as well as monitor trade agreements.

As an employer, the Institutions and Agencies of the EU offer a community of expertise with a wide range of opportunities to broaden your learning, enhance your skills, and develop your career. Respect for cultural diversity and promotion of equal opportunities are founding principles of the EU. You will be working in multicultural, international and diverse teams to benefit the lives of over 500 million EU citizens and beyond.

To apply, you will need a university degree of at least 3 years in a relevant subject such as veterinary medicine, agriculture, chemistry, food and nutrition legislation, biology, food science, political science or economics in the agri-food industry. Your diploma must be followed by at least 4 years' professional experience relevant to the nature of the duties. Additionally, you must be proficient in 2 official EU languages, one at minimum C1 level and the other at minimum B2 level. One of your languages must be English, French, German or Italian. Please note that you may only apply for one profile.

Both competitions open on 15th March 2018. Deadline for applications is 17th April 2018, 12.00 midday, Brussels time.
